WORLD NEED MORE PROJECT MANAGERS!

Project activities are taking bigger role in corporations and the significance of project management is growing.

We have a mission to bulid a world wide active young project manager's network which is ready to take tomorrow's challenges as they come and solve it through projects.

Project Management Championship is a competition between student teams to determine the best new or potential project managers.

Objectives of competition include raising awareness of professional PM and the PM community, getting students involved in PM and test the PM skills in a fun way.

What is THE IDEA!

The ultimate goal is to build globally recognized international project management competition for students (iPMC), where the best students – young project managers – are assessed within IPMA network.

iPMC is a tournament for students of universities from all over the world. In this tournament students compete based on project management competencies.

Involvement as a sponsor offers long lasting benefits well beyond the close the event. We invite you to contact us at your earliest convenience to ensure our successful collaboration.

Let's hear one more short story about how project management team works!

Here, we have a choreographer...

A person who create a strategy of the dance.

Then, we can meet a person who stands at the first position in the kolo...

A person who power the realization of the strategy.

PM activities are everywhere!

They just need to be noticed and find their true use!
